Activity 1: Queenie's Photos

In the episode, Queenie and Chicken build a farm stand by the oak tree, and fill it with ripe vegetables from their garden. They then invite people to come and take what they need. As they did it, Queenie took photographs for her journal. Here are a few of them to look at.

Activity 2: A Poem To Read

“My Squeaky Wheelbarrow”

I've got a squeaky barrow.
It squeaks so shrill and loud that people come from far and wide
to form a massive crowd

to see what makes a noise that's like
a giant mouse in pain.
The neighbors desiring a peaceful life pray nightly now for rain, to keep me safely in my house,

my barrow in its shed.
But, on sunny days,
it squeaks away,
until it's time for bed.

I love the squeaks
the barrow makes
as I push it full of soil, and I vow to never silence it with any type of oil.

So, if your world's too quiet, don't sit there and critique.
Come push my barrow
round with me,
and fill your world with squeaks!

Activity 3: Drawing

In the episode, Queenie, Chicken, and Little Dazzy Donuts pick vegetables in the garden, put them into the wheelbarrow, and then wheel them around to the Farm Stand. Think about a part of that scene, and then draw it below - for example, you could draw a wheelbarrow full of vegetables.

A large, empty rectangular box with a thin green border, intended for a drawing. The box is positioned below the text and occupies most of the page's width and height.
